

Bridging the Gap: Successful transitions from school to adult life

Responding to the 2015 SEND Code of Practice Supporting young people's social, emotional and mental health

A conference for Senior Leaders of Special Schools

Join Professor Barry Carpenter CBE and Professor Sheila the Baroness Hollins to explore new ways to support the social, emotional and mental health needs of young people with SEND, and to prepare them to make the transition to adult life.

- Professor Carpenter will share new ways for schools to support their pupils' social, emotional and mental health
- Baroness Hollins will explain the power of Books Beyond Words to engage with and support young people as they move on from school to adult life
- There will be an opportunity to observe Beyond Words book clubs in action
- Educational researcher Jo Egerton will share learning from Swiss Cottage School's pilot transition book club, including their use of the Engagement Profile, as recommended by the Rochford Review of assessment
- A proposed transition research project will be presented: schools will have the opportunity to apply to become a partner
